

July 1, 2018

Edwin Stafford, PhD is a marketing professor at the Jon Huntsman School of Business at Utah State University, has been teaching at USU since 1993, and has won numerous teaching and research awards, including 2003 USU Teacher of the Year and USU Inaugural Sustainability Educator Award in 2015. He and his colleague Roslynn Brain launched the Utah High School Clean Air Poster Contest, an annual competition to encourage teens beginning to drive to learn about the air pollution implications of their new driving privilege.

Topic: "Driverless Cars and Clean Air"

July 8, 2018

Scott Bushman, a Utah native, attended the University of Utah, earning degrees in history, geography, and education. He later attended Utah State University where he obtained a certification in professional forestry. Bushman pursued a career in fire management with the U.S. Forest Service on the Wasatch Cache National Forest. He retired in 2009 after 35 years of service. He has written and lectured on National Fire Management and Suppression, Forest Service History, and Utah History. He has served as President of the Cache Valley Historical Society as well as many other associations.

Topic: "Fire Suppression and Management"

July 15, 2018

Jamie Andrus, President and CEO of the Cache Chamber of Commerce and Cache County Economic Development Director.

Topic: "What Is Your Cache Chamber of Commerce Doing to Add Value to the Quality of Life in Cache Valley?"

July 22, 2018

Thomas Westre is a retired public school teacher with 35 years of high school teaching experience. He received bachelors and master's degrees from the University of South Dakota. He is the past president of the Cache Valley Astronomical Society and has been interested in astronomy since he was 9 years old.

Topic: "Is There an Earth 2?"

July 29, 2018

Linda D'Addabbo is the Summer Citizens Program & Facilities Coordinator at Utah State University.

Topic: "The history and future of the Summer Citizens Program"