

Students are back for Spring Semester, but so is the snow!

Hello from the Summer Citizens Program Office

Happy New Year! It's hard to believe 2022 has already come and gone! Only a few short months ago, so many of you were here cooling off and enjoying the beauty of Cache Valley. Here in Logan, students were welcomed back for a new semester on January 9th and the campus is already abuzz once more. The Summer Citizens Office has been busy as well preparing engaging classes and tours for your arrival at the end of May and we are excited to share new experiences with you! Registration will be open on February 1st, so mark your calendars to review what will be available to you this summer!

A Note from The Cache Valley Visitors Bureau

To My Dear Summer Citizen Friends,
Happy New Year!

Hope you're enjoying your lovely temperatures and cactus as you revive yourself from your holiday fudge-eating. We're freezing up here and have had tons of snow. That translates to a beautiful green Cache Valley when you show up just a few months from now. We're so excited for your return!

We've had a wonderful holiday season with downtown bursting with holiday flare. Shop windows display giant ornaments made of thousands of pieces of candy as well as 11 different gingerbread houses. Imagine Christmas theatre performances, strolling carolers, concerts, horse-drawn sleigh rides...it's like Hallmark exploded in Cache Valley!

You must have been on Santa's nice list because our new COSTCO is open! Other construction projects downtown are also moving along. The new plaza on Main Street has a tentative ribbon-cutting date of May 12, so even if they get behind schedule it will still be finished while you're here. New restaurants and eateries are being planned on Center Street and other locations and should be open when you arrive.

You may have already heard that USU President Noelle Cockett has announced she will step down in July. She has served as USU's first female president for seven years. She will return to teaching and research (her exact specialty is sheep eyelids!)

Well I guess I'd better get back to shoveling snow. Nancy and Laura say hello. See you soon, but not soon enough!
